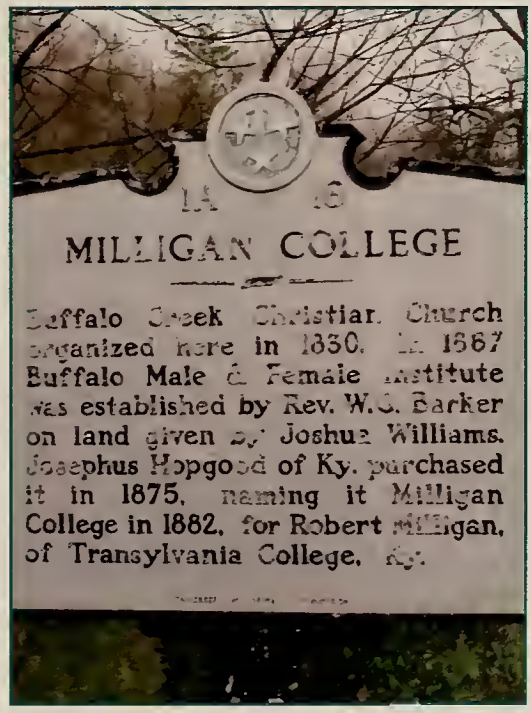
MILLIGAN COLLEGE

Academic excellence since 1866

MILLIGAN
COLLEGE



MILLIGAN COLLEGE
Buffalo Creek Christian Church organized here in 1830. In 1867 Buffalo Male & Female Institute was established by Rev. W.C. Barker on land given by Joshua Williams. Josephus Hopgood of Ky. purchased it in 1875, naming it Milligan College in 1882, for Robert Milligan, of Transylvania College, Ky.

Humanities Tour

Becoming World Travelers

The 2009 Humanities Tour group comprised of thirty-six students and four leaders (Charlene and Ted Thomas, David and Lisa Runner). They traveled to ten countries: England, France, Germany, Austria, Belgium, the Netherlands, Italy, Greece, Switzerland, and Liechtenstein. Going to museums, climbing the Eiffel Tower, spotting the Queen of England, and relaxing on the beach at the Mediterranean Sea are just a few of the activities in which students participated. Many memories were made and new friendships were formed on this journey through Europe.

New Arrivals

Change in 2010

With donations from various sources, Milligan has expanded and received new additions to the campus. A new buffalo statue resides behind Derthick and has become one of the most visited spots on campus. The Gilliam Wellness Center also opened this year giving students a new place to exercise and work out. A new sign will welcome visitors and emergency lights help provide students with a safe and secure environment.

3. The dazzle of the lights shines as the couple tangos in front of the other students. 4. 7. A crowd of fall formal dancers showing off their moves on the dance floor.

8. Ana Bracero and Tracey Woods at fall formal showing off their purple gowns.

9. Two Milligan students taking a break from all the dancing to smile at the camera.

Fall Formal, on November 14 at Carnegie Hotel, was a night to remember. It was a night filled with smiles, music, and quite a bit of dancing. Dresses were colorful and twirling couples were abundant. Overall, it was an amazing and magical night that filled people's minds with wonder, especially after the tango dance performance. It became the one night getaway for all who attended.

Mr. Buff

Men on a Mission

The second annual Mr. Buff competition allowed students to show their talent in many different ways. Dancing, singing, and performing as a group made this event a success. Winner Sam Beale sang his way to victory and will hold the crown until next year when the men of Milligan attempt to achieve the title of Mr. Buff.

The men of Milligan show their talent by singing, dancing and even giving credit to characters such as Pop Eye. A winner is chosen and crowned.

Contestants dance with Kelly Alexander and strut their way across the stage.

Dancing and singing were two popular talents in the competition. Others chose to perform their talent while wearing a costume.

Graduation

Looking to the Future

Seniors and graduates walked across the stage to receive the diploma that would be the end of their education at Milligan, but the beginning of a new life ahead. This time was seen as a great celebration of all that students had accomplished.

TWIRP Week

The Woman has to Pay

"The woman is required to pay" is a phrase that is uttered often throughout TWIRP week. It is a phrase that brings to mind movies at Derthick lawn, basement parties after volleyball games, bowling, Fender's Farm Corn Maze, and Cab movie night. This annual week long event is filled with fun activities that encourage students to interact with groups of friends, go on a fun date or two, and meet new people while watching classics such as Monty Python and the Holy Grail.

Give Me a Home Where the Buffalo Roam...

Milligan alumni from all over the nation came to join the current Buffaloes in this year's Homecoming Weekend. Events ranging from the Fall Festival to the powder-puff and soccer games to the parade kept everyone busy. Whether shopping around at the book sale, running the Buffalo Run, or watching some of the events, everyone seemed to have a wonderful time.

Titus and Two Gents

Below: Sir Thurio (played by Daniel Banks) and Valentine (played by Brennan Seth Tracy) duel for Sylvia's (played by Hannah Hughes) love.

This Shakespeare Double Bill brought together in marvelous fashion two plays from opposite ends of the spectrum. The first, "Titus Andronicus," is considered one of Shakespeare's most violent tragedies. And the second, "The Two Gentlemen of Verona," is without a doubt one of his most ridiculous comedies. This daring combination was added to a truck, a couple of puppets, and a brilliant cast to create a production that no one at Milligan will soon forget.

Wonderful Wednesday!

Under the Big Top

Wonderful Wednesday is Milligan's very own holiday! This great event occurs once a year. 2010's carnival theme "Under the Big Top" was a huge success! Playing games in the big tent, splashing down the water slide, and watching a magician at dinner was entertaining for everyone! This extravagant day of fun was blessed with beautiful, warm, sunny weather!

Little Women

Portraying characters from Louisa May Alcott's classic novel, students from Milligan put on the performance of a lifetime. Long hours and hard work allowed those in the play to capture the true essence of Alcott's novel and provide the audience with an evening of laughter, tears, and pure joy.

The Annual

One Act Festival

A great way to enjoy the theater at Milligan is to attend the annual One Act festival. Students perform and have their own ideas represented through great acting.

Jr Sr

Titled "Fire and Ice" this year's Jr. Sr. dance was held at the Meadowview Convention Center. Sponsored by the junior SGA class this dance was one students will never forget. A fun time to dance, eat, and hang out with friends made students wish the night would never end.

Men's Soccer

Headed for the Goal

After a very competitive season, the Buffs were successful in ranking number one in their conference in the regular season. They faced many equally talented teams and gave each of them a run for their money. Overall, the Buffs came out looking good and concluded their season with an overall AAC record and a league best of 11-5-1.

Swimming

Setting records

Resetting almost every team record in the 2009-2010 season members of the swim team worked hard to achieve victory. Two new members, Evan Alfano and Adam Lewis, were added to the Academic All American list along with the two current members, Darcee Kubisiak and Eron Cavanaugh. Five juniors were also recognized as scholar athletes. The season ended with the resignation of Coach Ron Goehring and leaves the team to start the next season with new coach Terry Caldwell.

Always dedicated, the cheerleading squad made sure to support Milligan athletes in every way possible. The squad supported teams during games and also before and after games. Each individual member of the squad was assigned an athletic team to support and provide for in order to encourage them during home games.

The squad was also very active in the community. Every year the members participate in the Susan G. Komen walk for the cure. Members also visited nursing homes and held cheerleading camps for children.

Bryan Newbold

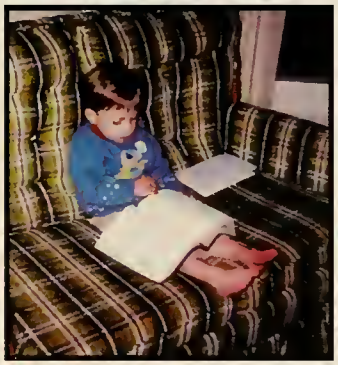
Dear Bryan,

Congratulations on your graduation at Milligan College. We are very proud of the paths you have taken through your life. We know that any path you choose will be the right one as you are about to start another chapter in your life and we know it will be great.

Love you bunches!
Mom, Dad, Rachel, Landon and Sarah



As parents, we are so thankful for you, Justin! What an honor to witness the Lord's love active in your life as you walk in His truth and grace. Congratulations on your graduation!

Much Love,
Rod and Joanne Larson

Justin Larson

Eric-It's been great seeing you develop into the man you have become. Hope all your dreams come true. Always put the Lord first and everything will fall into place.

We love you-
Mom and Dad

Eric Oxley

Dear Chelsea,
Words cannot express how proud I am of the woman you have become. I treasure the picture books you put together when you were 3 years old as much as the newspaper columns you are writing now.

The last four years have shown the evidence of God's hand on you. No matter where you have been, He has placed such special people in your life. I am eternally grateful to them. Keep your faith in your "Daddy" "Abba" "Father". Always remember how much He loves you. You will do great things because His hand will be with you always. Always seek His will in your life to guide you to the path He wants you to take. I love you with all my heart.
Mom

Chelsea,
Where did all the years go? Seems like only yesterday we were inventing pool games and now you have gone and become a college graduate. I want you to know how proud I am of you and all the hard work you have done. It is the great joy of my life to see what a remarkable young woman you have become. I am so proud that you are my daughter. May God's richest blessings continue to rest on you and bring to you abundance in all things. Now, chase after your dreams and know that your dad will always be cheering for you and ready to celebrate one success after another with you. I love you very much.
Dad

Chelsea Farnam

Rachel,
Where has the time gone? Just the other day you were graduating from day care, to begin kindergarten. High School and College seemed so far away.

Now, here you are graduating College! Your dad would be so proud of you.

We love you and God Loves you. Always put God first in your life and your life will be an adventure!

You make us proud everyday.

We love you,

Rachel Lee

You have been, and always will be, the joy in my heart.

Congratulations!

Love, Mom

Bekki Watts

Dear Bekki.

Congratulations! The day you have long awaited has arrived; you are graduating from college! Your journey has not been without obstacles and challenges, yet you have persevered, and you have won the victory. We are so proud of you and of all you have accomplished. As you move on to the new chapter of your life, grad school, in a new place, with new challenges and new life lessons to learn, may you hold on to the same values that got you through this far. May your faith in Jesus Christ, the love of your family and friends, your work ethic, integrity, and character, all continue to make you the wonderful, gracious, beautiful, and intelligent daughter you have always been. We love you very much. Mom and Dad
